

Dear Sirs & Ms:

What Sinclair has done is a blatant disregard for election laws and equal time access. If you ever needed proof that media consolidation is a bad thing, you have it now. When one corporation owns this many media outlets that have the opportunity of influencing elections by only showing one side. In a democracy the media should be showing a diversity of opinions and just the one presented by the administration (republican or democratic).

Thank you

Robert Rickun